SUN DARKENED AT NOONDAY BY FINE ECLIPSE

People who watched the sun between 10:35 this morning and 1:53 this afternoon witnessed an annular eclipse of that body.

The sun was too bright today to be looked at with the naked eye, but a smoked glass provided a good medium for gazing at it. By means of the glass the eclipse was easily distinguished as a black disk cutting in upon the side of the sun. Daylight was noticeably dimmed by the phenomenon, fully two-thirds of the surface being obscured.

The only other eclipse of the sun to occur this year was on February 13, but was not visible in Hawaii.

Professor J. S. Donaghoe of the College of Hawaii predicts a shower of meteors tonight and tomorrow night that will probably be visible here.

SHIPPING TRUST IN MARKET FOR P. M. STEAMERS?

Wall Street Hears of Sale of Big Block of Bonds and Purchase of Vessels

The American flag may not be hauled down from the steamers of the Pacific Mail Company when the Seamen's Act goes into effect, if a report from New York City that the International Mercantile Marine Company, an eastern corporation, is considering the purchase of the Pacific Mail proves true. A despatch received in Honolulu today under a New York date line states:

"The International Mercantile Marine Company is seriously considering buying the ships of the Pacific Mail Company, according to reports on Wall Street. It is known that conferences have been held between officials of the two companies.

"Under the reorganization planned by the International Marine, it is said $2,500,000 will be raised in addition to the sale of $10,500,000 in bonds, making it possible to acquire the Pacific Mail ships."

NEW FOUR INCH LINE PUT UNDER SUBMARINE F-4

Although the cruiser Maryland, bringing the steel pontoons for raising the F-4 is not expected until Friday, preliminary work toward saving the harbor bottom carefully marked so that there will be no unnecessary delay when the cruiser arrives.

"We have been working for the last few days getting everything ready for the real salvage operations when the Maryland gets here," said Lieut. Kirby L. Crittenden, commanding the submarine division, this morning. "A 4-inch line has been passed under the F-4 and other work that can be done before the pontoons arrive has been attended to."

ROMANCE BEGAN SEEING "BIRD OF PARADISE"

Now Miss Muriel Canady is Mrs. Christopher Lewis—Will Live in Honolulu

A romance which began with a visit to a Kansas City, Missouri, theater to witness the production of "A Bird of Paradise," happily ended today with the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Lewis, bride and bridegroom, who were passengers in the Matson liner Manoa from San Francisco.

Mrs. Lewis, formerly Miss Muriel Canady, is a daughter of Mrs. S. E. McKee, prominently identified with society circles of Kansas City. Mrs. Lewis confessed today that the appeal of Hawaiian music and the care-free life in the islands, depicted by the company presenting "A Bird of Paradise," at once decided her upon a visit to Honolulu. She spent two years in the islands, leaving for the coast several months ago.

The young woman was soon followed by Mr. Lewis, and they were married at Kansas City on July 23. The honeymooners left a few hours later for Hawaii. Mr. Lewis has been identified with the Bishop Trust Company during the greater part of his stay in Honolulu.

'CONGRESS HAMSTRINGS THIS BABY TERRITORY AT EVERY TURN'—TAYLOR

Says Seamen's Act is Merely One Shining Instance of How We "Get it in the Neck"

Some pertinent comment on the prospect of a tourist and commercial trade is facing in connection of the Pacific Mail going out of business next November is contained in a letter which has been mailed by Acting Director A. P. Taylor of the Hawaii Promotion Committee to General Secretary Frederick Farnsworth of the American Bankers' Association of New York, following Mr. Farnsworth's letter received Saturday stating that the A. B. A. delegates will not be able to come here because of unsettled steamship conditions.

In the letter Mr. Taylor declares that the Seamen's Act has resulted in absolutely wiping out the American merchant marine between the Hawaiian Islands and the Far East. His letter follows:

Your comment on the American merchant marine situation, which came in your letter of July 26, reached us at a very auspicious moment, for we are faced with a situation here which is unusual. The Seamen's Act contained in the La Follette measure has already had one result—the absolute wiping out of the American merchant marine between the Hawaiian Islands and the Far East. After October not an American vessel will ply the Pacific ocean between our Paradise of the Pacific and Japan, the sole exception being United States army transports.

"We are fighting here for the protection of our one great industry—sugar—the one which has made prosperous this farthest west American outpost. We are also fighting to retain the American flag on our merchant marine in opposition to the congressional measure which is already so destructive; we are fighting to get sufficient vessels to carry travel this way so that this baby territory of the United States will be properly linked with the American mainland; we are discriminating against."

"Californians have no trouble in getting to Nevada and vice versa; New Yorkers have no trouble in getting into every state in the Union every day if they wished, and they can leave any place in the United States for any other place at any hour they desire.

"Hawaii is unfortunate. We cannot use a motor car or a horse or even shanks' ponies to go from Hawaii to any part of the United States mainland. We have to depend upon steamships. These have been infrequent enough already, and now we are faced with the elimination of six splendid vessels, all of which have heretofore flown the American flag.

"Congress hamstrings this baby territory at every turn. First, the removal of the tariff on sugar is a fist blow in one eye; the Seamen's Act is a left-hand blow in the other eye. We get another in the nose and the combination of them acts as a knock-out—a real solar plexus blow.

"We are glad to know that you are quite in sympathy with our feelings in this matter, and we certainly hope, with you, that Congress will do something at its next session to give us at least justice. I do not mind your airing our views if you have an opportunity. Perhaps they might help.

"We are sorry, extremely sorry, that the bankers' excursion is off, but that is just one instance of where we are getting it in the neck."

IMPOSSIBLE TO RAISE BABY FOR LESS THAN $2000

Richard Smart, the infant son of the late Thelma T. K. Parker Smart, has been allowed $2000 a year for his support, education, etc., until other arrangements are made.

Circuit Judge Whitney, acting on a motion by the law firm of Thompson & Milverton, attorneys for the Trust Company, guardian of the estate of Richard Smart, yesterday signed an order to this effect. The money will be paid to Mrs. Elizabeth J. Knight, grandmother and guardian of the Smart infant.

The original motion asked that $2000 be allowed Mrs. Knight for the support of the child. Circuit Judge Whitney, in making the order, cut this amount down to $1200. Yesterday he amended the order to read $2000.

"It appears that it is absolutely impossible to support the child on less than $2000 a year," he said today.

QUICK RELIEF FOR DYSPEPTICS

"The worst and most confirmed dyspeptics, those who for years have been unable to eat without discomfort or intense pain can quickly overcome the trouble and enjoy the pleasure of eating a hearty meal of the good things they have been denied for years, if they will only use a little common everyday horse sense," says an eminent specialist who recently returned from a six years' stay in Europe. In explanation he said: "The great majority of all cases of stomach trouble—dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, etc., are primarily due to excessive acid and food fermentation. Tonics, opiates, or artificial digestants which merely cover up the trouble or temporarily assist digestion are as useless and foolish as it would be to mend a punctured tire without removing the nail that caused the trouble. What must be done—and it's the only logical thing to do—is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation which has for years been irritating and distending the stomach. For this purpose I have found nothing quite so good or convenient as taking a teaspoonful of ordinary bisulphated magnesia immediately after meals or whenever pain is felt. No matter how severe the case may be this should be tried for I personally know of many cases where patients after suffering for over 20 years, attending hospitals and even undergoing such serious operations as that for appendicitis, have obtained quick and permanent relief by following this simple common-sense advice. I may add that I understand from inquiries I have made that most druggists in this country are now able to supply bisulphated magnesia in five-grain tablets as well as the ordinary powder form. Two or three of these tablets are usually sufficient to give instant relief even in the most severe attacks of acute indigestion."

ANTARCTIC EXPLORER IS DEAD AT DARDANELLES

(By Associated Press.)

SYDNEY, Aus.—Among the Australians killed at the Dardanelles was Capt. Edward F. R. Bage, a member of Sir Douglas Mawson's Antarctic expedition in 1911. He served in that expedition as astronomer, assistant magnetician and recorder of tides. He was the leader of a party which covered 600 perilous miles with sledges, and he afterward contributed a chapter to Mawson's books.

HER SUITOR WAS INSPIRED TO SPOUT PO'TRY

There was once a fair blonde maiden,
Yea, her hair was far from raven;
She deemed to be very exclusive,
Tho' her acquaintance was quite inclusive.

She was off' went to go in abathing,
But for company she ne'er seemed a craving

Of admirers she had full a score;
She was polite—saw them once—then no more.

"Bids" of all kinds she always refused
Till the poor chappies were completely confused.

Many and varying were the "answers"
Advanced by her bevy of prancers

As to why she was continually declining
Them, one and all, to go out adorning.

Then on the beach one Sunday P. M.
All dressed (or undressed) for a swim

Appeared a gay, happy Lothario
Hail ye all, whether ye will or no.

Thusly, mused this judge and scholar
As he stroked the strip that was usually collared.

Then, tripping along to the wafer's edge,
Where out o'er the waves was bobbing a head.

I've long had the pleasures of this fair maiden,
Not because of my hair, which is neither blonde nor raven;

Not because I'm a sage—not because of my age
Was it that she elected me for her page.

I know the secret—and am not piggish to keep it—
I'll tell you now so you all can use it:

Her heart doesn't belong, as you may have been fearing,
To a Brown, a Williams, or even a Leering,

Tho' you might have surmised, by the look in her eyes,
For all, save one, her heart was of ice.

Her heart is as human as can be;
All she wants is the finest of candy.

She's not been just playing possum.
All she wants is famous Orange Blossom.

Now I'm not a pig—and I don't care a fig
If you succeed and win her as I did.

I've given you the secret—now don't hog it—and keep it;
Pass it on—just pass it and pass it.

That's about enough poetry (?)— anyway a fresh shipment of that famous brand of candy arrived this morning and you fellows can get all you want at the Honolulu Drug Co.—Adv.
